

Contents

Preface	7
Stefanie Ricarda Roos
Introduction	11
Vladimíra Dvořáková
PART ONE
Theoretical and Conceptual Approach
1. Lustration and Access to the Files in Central Europe	19
Gábor Halmai
2. (In)Surpassable Barriers to Lustration: Quis custodiet ipso custodes?	47
Alan Uzelac
3. In Search of a Theoretical Framework of Transitional Justice: Toward a Dynamic Model	65
Raluca Ursachi
4. Elite Groups in the Waves of Democratization and Lustration ..	85
Andelko Milardović
5. The Catholic Church in Croatia: From Tending to Lustration to Lustration Crisis	111
Ivan Markešić

6. Dilemmas of Transitional Justice in Post-1989 Romania	127
Dragoş Petrescu
7. The Institute of National Memory: Historical Memory as a Political Project	153
Vladimíra Dvořáková
8. An Unsuccessful Attempt of Lustration in Serbia	169
Vesna Rakić-Vodinić
9. The Role of the Civil Society and Anticommunist Political Actors in the Romanian Transitional Justice Partial Failure	183
Raluca Grosescu
10. Sifting Through the Past: Lustration in Reunified Germany .	197
Katy A. Crossley-Frolick
PART TWO
Case Studies
11. Lustration and Vetting Process in Bosnia and Herzegovina .	217
Jakob Finci
12. The Limited Opening of the Files in Albania	223
Neviana Dosti
Notes about authors	225
Summary	228
The Rule of Law Program South East Europe	229